

No Trace of 3 Boys Lost in Coal Mine

By PAUL ZDINA K

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal mine officials called a temporary halt to a search for three missing boys today after weary rescue workers emerged from an abandoned coal mine and reported they found no proof the boys were inside.

"According to what we can gather, they (the rescue workers) seem to be of the opinion that the boys are not in there," said Police Chief Andrew Orr of nearby Castle Shannon.

T.J. McDonald, assistant district supervisor for the U.S. Bureau of Mines, ordered the mine hunt suspension.

McDonald said authorities needed time to check the possibility the teen-agers were above ground. In addition, he said, mine searchers needed a brief rest.

The missing boys are: Bobby Abbott, 14, of Pittsburgh's Mount Washington section, and Danny O'Kain, 13, and Billy Berk 13 of suburban Badwin Trip.

Their bicycles were found near the mine entrance Thursday and a firecracker was discovered about 50 feet inside the shaft.

Robert Abbott, the father of Bobby Abbott, said he is sure his son was at least part way into the tunnel.

"They were in there all right," Abbott said. "They found the Continued on Page Two

Tanganyika Agriculture Visitor Here

RAPHAEL MUSOMI

Raphael Musomi, assistant field officer, Grade I, one of 15 agriculturalists from Tanganyika, has been in the United States since June 6. They arrived in Little Rock, June 23, where they were informed about the staff and facilities of the Arkansas Extension Service, geography of Arkansas, state and county government, and Arkansas' agriculture.

Mr. Musomi arrived in Hope July 10, and will remain for a six-week training period to observe and work with Extension personnel in the county office and learn how: (1) To organize a county Extension office, (2) To use basic methods of Extension teaching with particular emphasis on farm and home visits, method and result demonstrations, and (3) How 4-H Club work is organized and carried out.

He will be traveling with the agent, making farm visits and attending meetings. He will also spend some time in the home of one of the farmers in the county. According to Cayce B. Smith, assistant county agent, Mr. Musomi is residing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McWashington, 613 South Hazel Street, Hope.

2 Killed in W. Virginia Hills Feud

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—A long, bitter feud between two mountain families in West Virginia exploded into a gun battle Thursday when police attempted to serve a warrant at the home of Ernest Moore, near here.

When the gunsmoke cleared, Moore, 67, and his son, Andrew, 23, were dead. The elder Moore's wife, Garnet, 57, suffered a head cut and was charged with resisting an officer.

Three State Troopers who approached the house with two Manawha County sheriff's deputies Thursday afternoon, recounted this story:

The Moores had been feuding for years with the O.F. Miles family, owners of adjacent mountain property. Miles had sworn out a warrant against the Moores last week, but the Moores chased away officers four times as they attempted to serve the document.

Thursday Charles Walker, Manawha County prosecutor, issued a warrant for the arrest of the Moores. Deputies Willie Gibbs and Lawrence Carpenter joined State Troopers D. A. Nickerson, C. N. Cooke and J. O. Blevins in another attempt to get the warrant served.

Gibbs knocked on the door of the Moore cabin and was told by Mrs. Moore, "You'll be shot if you don't get out of here."

Seconds later, a shotgun blast ripped through the screen door. Gibbs' face felt the breeze.

The gunshot was the signal for Cooke and Blevins to storm through the back door. They opened fire on Moore and his son as they burst in.

Moore was hit three times and his son was shot twice. None of the officers was hit. Funeral attendants said the officers' shots were fired at such close range that five slugs passed through the bodies of Moore and his son.

Miles complained to police that the Moores had been using his private road. He also said he suspected the feud had been responsible for the burning of his barn and the snipping of his fences in recent days.

Light Rain Is Forecast Statewide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The light rain that drizzled into western Arkansas Thursday was expected to spread over the rest of the state tonight and Saturday.

The rain and cloudy skies held temperatures in the high 70s in the western portion of the state Thursday and lows this morning dipped into the 50s.

Highs over the rest of the state crept into the 80s Thursday while lows this morning were generally in the mid 60s to the low 70s.

The Weather Bureau said skies would be cloudy in the west today with increasing cloudiness east. Heavy showers were likely later today and Saturday in western Arkansas.

The high pressure cell responsible for the past few days of cool weather was on the Atlantic Seaboard this morning. Weather conditions are expected to be more normal for July when it moves out to sea.

Highs of 84-94 were predicted for this afternoon and lows of 66-76 were expected tonight.

Temperatures during the next five days were expected to average near normal with a gradual warming trend through most of the period. Normal highs range from near 90 north to 95 south, normal lows from 68-72.

Widely scattered mostly afternoon and evening thundershowers during the five-day period were expected to total one-half inch to one inch.

Rainfall for the year to date totaled 13.71 inches, 15.88 inches below normal. The predicted rain was expected to help farmers, particularly in the northeast, where there are quite a few local dry spots.

Dardanelle Dam Roads Bid on

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An apparent low bid of $252,066 has been submitted by Vance Brothers, Inc. of Kansas City for construction of access roads to four recreation areas on the Dardanelle Reservoir. The Little Rock District of Army Engineers said the roads would go to the Odita recreation area in Pope County, the Flat Rock, Cabin Creek and Spadra areas in Johnson County.

Flight of Key Spy Forces Red Shakeup

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—Defection of a top Russian spy to the West raised speculation today that his flight might force the Soviet Union to revamp its intelligence apparatus.

The British government said the defector, a senior Soviet intelligence officer, was turned over to Britain after weeks of interrogation by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency in Washington.

The British said he was as important as any defector on either side since World War II.

His identity was kept secret. Officials said he is being held at a secret headquarters in Britain for fear the Russians might try to kidnap or kill him.

"His life is in positive danger," one official said.

An informed source said the Russian contacted an American embassy in an Allied capital after revelations at the Moscow trial of Col. Oleg Penkovsky, a Soviet official shot last May for passing information to the British.

Penkovsky compromised a number of Soviet agents, a move that apparently prompted the Russian to hold the British to defect.

British officials ranked the defector with George Blake, a British double agent who gave the Russians names and locations of British agents and their methods.

The discover of Blake's treachery forced the British to reorganize their entire intelligence network in the Middle East and Eastern Europe. He was jailed in 1961 for 42 years, the longest sentence for espionage in British history.

Informants said the Russian has given invaluable information on the Soviet espionage methods and its spy network in the West.

Miss Brown Is Cleared at Ft. Smith

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Carolyn Brown, 20, of Fort Smith, was found innocent of murder Thursday in the death of Fort Smith businessman Paul Rush, 56, who was fatally shot May 13, 1962.

Miss Brown, one of three persons charged in the death of Rush, was the second to be found innocent in the case.

Rush was shot to death in the basement of the VIR Sales Co., firm, which he owned.

The state contended that Frederick Rush, 26, a foster son of the victim; Raymond Wood, 21, of Roland, Okla., and Miss Brown had conspired to kill Paul Rush so Frederick could inherit a portion of his estate.

Frederick Rush, first to be brought to trial, was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. He has appealed the conviction to the state Supreme Court and is free on $50,000 bond. Wood was found innocent.

All three were tried in Sebastian Circuit Court.

The jury of 10 men and two women deliberated nearly three hours Thursday night before returning its verdict.

Miss Brown had been in the Sebastian County jail for 135 days, except for a brief time in the hospital after she suffered a nervous breakdown.

When she heard the verdict of the jury she threw her arms around one of her attorneys and was swarmed by relatives and well-wishers.

The trial began Monday. The jury was not qualified for the death penalty.

Peace Corpsman Doubles for Doc

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chester Wiggins went to Peru to do construction work for the Peace Corps. But he proved himself in a completely unrelated field—midwifery.

Wiggins, 66, a retired airline maintenance supervisor from San Bruno, Calif., went to Peru with only brief first aid training.

According to word received at Peace Corps headquarters here, Wiggins was giving a Peruvian woman and her husband a jeep ride when she began having birth pains.

A few minutes later, with help from Wiggins, the woman gave birth to a 6-pound, 10-ounce boy.

Said the report: "Wiggins performed well as a midwife, and both mother and young Jose Chester Domingo are doing well."

State Troops Return to 'War' in Cambridge as 6 Whites Are Shot

State Police Take Over in Savannah

By DON MCKEE

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Heavily armed police and state troopers patrolled this port city today after firing tear gas for the second night to disperse crowds of rock-throwing Negroes and block a mass march on the downtown area.

Two Negro teen-agers were treated for gunshot wounds.

Walter Williams, 18, released after treatment for a bullet wound in the left thigh, told police he was shot from a passing car before the mass demonstration began. Police broadcast an alert for a car carrying four white men.

Gene Drew, 18, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with shotgun wounds in the back shortly after the mass march began, but it was not determined immediately whether the shooting had any racial overtones. Drew's condition was reported fair.

No other major injuries were reported.

The latest disorders came on the heels of new pleas from spokesmen for both races for an end to violence.

The march began after about 2,000 Negroes jammed into a recreation center for a rally. Before leaving, they were urged against wrongdoing by the Rev. Andrew Young of Atlanta. Young is an official of the Southern Leadership Conference, headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hundreds of Negroes formed a column of twos and began marching. Others trailed along as spectators.

On a dark street one block from a busy thoroughfare, and still in the Negro section, they were met by a skirmish line of riot-ready police and troopers carrying carbines or nightsticks and wearing gas masks.

The marchers halted. A city official talked with two of the leaders and the column of twos began to disperse. A shot rang out, but an officer said it apparently was fired accidentally.

As the demonstrators retreated quietly, Negroes who had crowded street corners began jeering officers. Rocks and bottles began to fly.

The helmeted troops and the city's riot squad charged behind a staccato barrage of tear gas grenades. The Negroes fled.

Stones and bricks were hurled at officers and motorists. Windows were smashed in several buildings. A car and an unoccupied store building were burned. Streets were blocked in some places by upended garbage bins and piles of rocks.

Troopers, some of them carrying electric prod sticks, and city policemen formed in columns of twos and cleared Negroes from the street and sidewalks.

Twenty-eight Negroes were arrested during the night, plus 48 during sporadic attempts at daytime demonstrations. Most were charged with disorderly conduct.

The demonstration came less than 24 hours after a similar march climaxed with rioting by bands of Negroes who battled policemen and hurled missiles through store windows.

Negroes resumed mass protests July 5 after presenting city officials and business leaders with proposals calling for almost complete desegregation of public and private facilities.

G. Campbell on KXAR at 12 Saturday

A country musical was held July 4 at the Don Campbell residence in the Pisgah community with about 300 people attending. The featured attraction was Glen Campbell, Capitol recording artist, who was born and reared in the Murfreesboro-Delight area.

This musical was recorded by KXAR and will be heard Saturday, July 13, at 12 noon on the Country Hour.

In addition to Glen, his brothers Shorty, Gerald and Ronald took part and also his sisters, Jane, Barbara and Sandra and other local musicians.

Glen has played guitar and banjo on records with Nat King Cole, Pat Boone, Ricky Nelson, Frankie Laine, Bobby Darin, Dean Martin and the Kingston Trio. He made the sound track of the movie "Hud" which starred Paul Newman.

He has a top record in "Too Late To Worry, Too Blue To Cry" and his soon-to-be-released Capitol "single" features two more country standards, "Dance Me Coon" and "Dark As A Dungeon." Glen's "Big Bluegrass Special" is played often on KXAR. Hollywood Gazette Publisher Don Sessions has this to say about Glen, "This handsome, entertaining showman could be the greatest young talent the world of entertainment has seen in years."

Book Obsolete Day It's Out

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Telephone Co. today completed delivery of 5-million pounds of phone books to Manhattan subscribers. Already the book is out of date.

The listings change at the rate of 1,000 per day. A telephone company spokesman said the 1963-64 edition lacked 50,000 new listings.

Separate books are issued for each of the city's four other boroughs.

6 Shot; Guard Returned to Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Four hundred National Guardsmen, under orders to carry fixed bayonets, sped toward this city today after a night of racial terror described as akin to "warfare."

Six white persons, including three off-duty National Guardsmen, were wounded by roving bands of gunmen Thursday night and early today.

Gunfire pierced the darkness so frequently that State Police Maj. George E. Davidson exclaimed at one point: "There is shooting all over the city—almost on the scale of warfare."

The troops, who had been pulled out of the eastern shore community only Monday after a 25-day stay to cope with previous violence, were under orders to clamp down stricter controls than before.

These included a 9 p.m. curfew (as against 10 p.m. previously); stores to close at 7 p.m.; no sale of liquor, beer or wine; no carrying of guns; all vehicles subject to stop and search.

These restrictions were described as "modified martial law" during the National Guard's previous stay in Cambridge. The state constitution forbids martial law.

At Annapolis, Md., the state capital, Gov. J. Millard Tawes was plainly upset by the necessity to return the troops to the city, which is asking to many places in the Deep South so far as its racial customs are concerned.

"I regret," the governor said, "that the mayor and city council and citizens of Cambridge cannot peacefully resolve the differences that exist there."

"I order to protect the peace and quiet of the area, it is quite evident that means other than State Police will have to be employed."

Cambridge is a focal point of Negroes to desegregate lunch rooms, hotels and other public accommodations, integrate the schools fully, and obtain better opportunities in employment and housing.

Negro leaders served notice of another demonstration at 3 p.m. this afternoon.

Tawes made the decision after conferring with the state adjutant general and the superintendent of State Police.

Three off-duty National Guardsmen were among those shot in the gunfire which broke out after 25 white patrons of a segregated lunchroom grabbed and slugged six whites and negroes attempting to stage a sit-in demonstration.

State Police arrested 12 persons—10 Negroes and two whites. Two Negroes and two whites, who were among those attempting the sit-in, were charged with disorderly conduct.

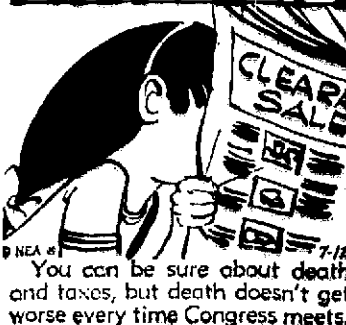

As the sit-in attempt was made about 200 Negroes watching from across the street ran to the restaurant and police moved in and dispersed the mob.

In the evening, about 300 whites and Negro integrationists marched from the Negro section of town to the courthouse seven blocks away, while some 1,000 white hecklers jeered and threw raw eggs at the demonstrators.

Police used dogs to keep the whites from following the marchers back into the Negro section. State Police fired some tear gas at the white crowd and later fired more in the Negro district when milling crowds of Negroes defied police orders to disperse.

The night was the town's most violent since racial demonstrations began about two years ago. Gov. J. Millard Tawes sent National Guard troops into the community June 14, after four straight Continued on Page Three bikes and a firecracker that belonged to my son. The question is:

Did they come back out?"
Authorities are hoping the boys only explored a short way into the mine in a spirit of adventure, then came out.

McDonald said if the boys do not turn up above ground the mine search will be continued. He said:
"If the boys do not show by this afternoon, we are going to press our search even further."

However, he added: "If they were there, we would have found them by now."

McDonald said rescuers had searched every part of the mine that was accessible, covering an estimated 1,200-square foot area.
One section of the mine is filled with water, but McDonald said a heavy scum on the surface had not been disturbed.

Mine rescue experts, aided by police and firemen, laughed at a search for the youths Thursday night after another boy reported he saw them enter the old mine in suburban Castle Shannon.

Bicycles of the boys, identified as Billy Berk, 13; Danny O'Kain, 13; and Robert Abbott, 14, were found about 20 feet from the mine mouth. The entrance, previously sealed with brick and wire mesh, had been torn open.

Fire Chief Alex Brown of Castle Shannon theorized the youths, in a spirit of adventure, went into the mine to explore and became lost in its dark, twisting corridors.

A seven-man team from the U.S. Bureau of Mines using self-contained breathing equipment, took up the search after firemen were turned back by lethal black damp gas.

One section of the mine also is filled with water.
Searchlights lit the area as rescue operations continued throughout the night.

The three boys left home Thursday morning. A search was begun when they failed to return for supper.

Owned by the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Co., the mine was abandoned about 20 years ago.

It has two main corridors and nine shafts. One corridor extends laterally to the left for several thousand feet from the entrance.
The other veers to the right for about 100 feet and descends at a steep angle for about 150 feet. It is filled with water.

The fire ant, which has become a serious threat to agriculture in the South, gets its name from the mildly burning sensation caused by its sting.

DOROTHY DIX

MOODY HUSBAND BAFFLES WIFE
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband has something on his mind — what, I don't know. But he broods and acts distant as if I didn't exist.
Glum at dinner, glummer as the evening passes. He sits, staring into space.

He's been divorced twice, I once His last wife and my former husband whooped it up nights at the town cafe. Now we lead very quiet lives.

I'm the lively fun-loving type When my present husband and I married, we shared the same interests. We have five children, he make good money and our home life should be happy for I love him dearly and would like him to love me. Once, when we were walking down the block, him saying nothing, me chattering away, a pretty girl waved at him from across the street. He is good looking. When I teased him, he got positively ill. How can I get him to smile again? Could the reason be that I am nine years younger than he? I am about ready to give up — Almost Disgusted with Men.

Dear Almost: The fact that you love your husband dearly and want him to love you, leaves room in your mind and heart for understanding. You and your mate had a good beginning, brought five children into the world, and presumably once shared the fun you say you love. Now he has fallen quiet. The jukes doesn't quicken his pulse any more, and the near-ring clock over the bar at the town cafe runs too fast for him.
Do you suspect he may be aging a little? Do you think he might be suffering from battle fatigue (life can be a battle), melancholy, depression?

He could be earning an excellent salary and still be disappointed in himself or the way he handles his job. Does he ever talk to you about his work? He might silently be suffering from a serious fracture of truth that all men catch and dread: He is mortal. He has to leave some day.

Soft-pedal the "fun-loving" side of your personality for a while because your husband probably is acutely aware of his inability to match it out of his resources in their present state. Your liveliness may be reminding him painfully of his lack of it.

Finally, give yourself an opportunity to reflect on the whole idea of having "fun." Many of us are determined to have fun if it kills us and others, and feel when not "having fun" that we aren't living. Fun isn't the core of life. It's the raisin in the bread. In old English, the word was "fon" and it meant "fool."

Your nine years' difference in age at this stage of your lives may seem like 20 years to a man seeing his shadow on the sundial.

You could help yours by not dancing around the sundial's pedal Walk around it — with him.

Dar Helen: I am crushed! My boy friend's mom phoned a couple of weeks ago and told me to stay away from her son. We have been going steady 11 months and 12 days. He loves me and I love him; so we dated secretly.
The other day his mom said if I don't stop dating him she'll see her lawyer. She just called now and said I could have her son, she was disowning him.

He doesn't want to quit any more than I do. My mom approves of us going together. Those spots on my letter are tears.
Wherever I look in my room as I write this, I see little things he gave me: a tiny doll he said "looked like me," the blue (my favorite color) ballpoint pen I'm using now; a framed color photograph of the lake where we go rowing. I treasure all these things.
Oh yes, I'm 16, he is 19. Should I let him go? — S.

Dear S.: The answer is "Yes," not because your boy friend's mother is behaving in such a melodramatic way, but because you and he need a break after going steady for almost a year.
I don't think you need a lecture at this point, or a shoulder to cry on. What you need is action. Dry the tears and start redecorating your room. Get rid of all the things — and I mean every single one — that remind you of your ex. Maybe your room could take a fresh coat of paint and some new curtains, both of which you can provide. There's nothing like a new project plus some physical exertion to take your mind off someone.

Next, get yourself back in circulation, no matter how great an effort it may be. You'll probably have to force yourself at first, but as always tough to get out off, but keep going and before you know it, you'll be rejoicing in your new-found freedom instead of bemoaning your fate. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Broken Romance"

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

the marshals. But Meredith got in.

This was followed by Kennedy's most hair-raising crisis, Oct. 22, 1962.

After watching Kennedy do nothing in the Cuban and Berlin war episodes, Khrushchev may have figured him for a soft touch.

He slipped missiles into Cuba. It might have meant war but Kennedy called his hand and said: Out. Khrushchev waddled off with his missiles.

Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace, learning nothing from Barlett's debacle, tried his own test of wills and invoked Kennedy's sixth crisis on June 11, 1963.

He defied a US court order to admit two Negroes to the University of Alabama. Kennedy federalized Alabama's National Guardsmen and marched them up to Wallace. Wallace wilted. The Negroes got in.

Kennedy met his seventh and latest crisis Wednesday, just a few hours before the railroad unions had been omitted from the previously released list of board members. Discussion of "The Gazebo," seen recently in El Dorado, was led by George Peck, Jr.

Mrs. Harold Brents was welcomed as a new member of the Playhouse. Coffee was served during the evening. The next meeting will be on Monday, July 22 in the home of Paul O'Neal.

Coming and Going

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles P. Stuart and Marcia of Lawton, Okla., have returned to their home after visiting here with his sister, Mrs. Leota Futrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Roymon Honea and Monroe Willis Jr., spent the 4th of July with Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Willis of Hope and relatives in Blevins. All have returned home in Lake Jackson, except Ronnie Honea who stayed for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Perryman of Bynum, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Gene Perryman and sons of Waxahatchie, Texas spent the week end with their mother, Mrs. Minnie West and sisters, Mrs. Nilva Collins and Mrs. Loy Cato.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stewart have been vacationing at Bull Shoals this week. They were joined by Mrs. Oil Hughes and Mrs. Sally Hines of Conway.

Miss Connie Sams, Parkersburg, W. V., and Miss Jacque Williams, who taught together this past year in Oklawaha, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams.

Luther Hollamon, Martin Pool, Jr., Mrs. Herbie Cook of Hot Springs, and Mrs. Mary Ann Avery left Friday for Dallas to see "Six Flags Over Texas" and "Cleopatra" this weekend.

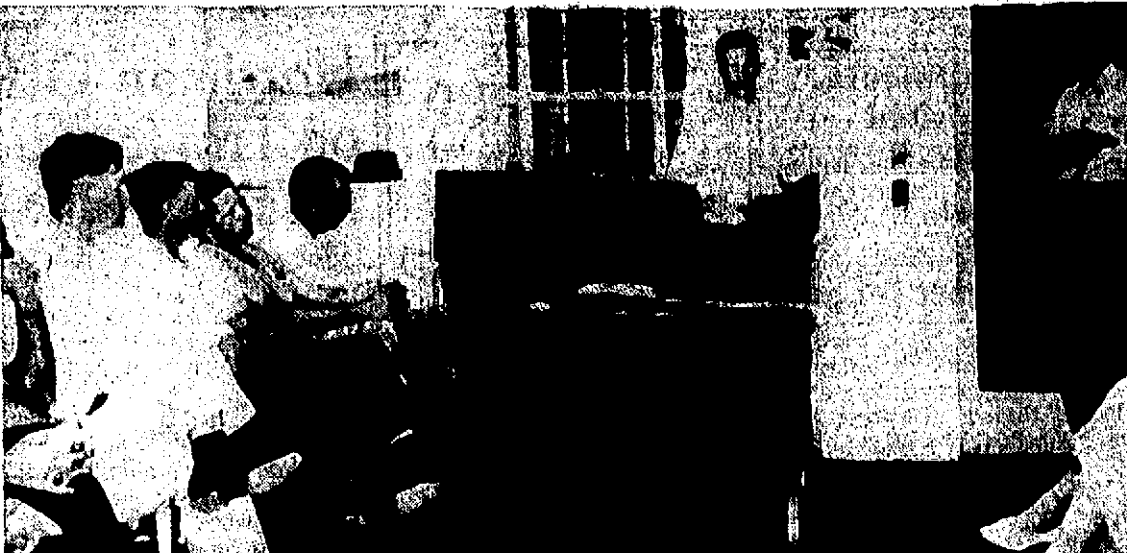

Mrs. L. M. Lile and Mrs. Lucy Mae Andrews, both of whom are associated with Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville, Tex., have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. McRae Andrews. They will meet Miss Alice Lile of Texarkana in Hot Springs for a visit, will tour Northwest Arkansas, and will return to Little Rock to see Dr. and Mrs. Henry Lile and family, who have recently moved there following the doctor's tour of duty with the armed forces.

Mrs. Lottie Mae Wesson of Texarkana had been visiting her sister-in-law, Miss Sue Wesson, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Breau and family, Jeanette, La., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Taylor on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stalmaker of Ruston, La., will spend the weekend with Mrs. Homer Fuller.

The lay-offs were scheduled to start today. The unions said they'd strike at once Kennedy got both sides to agree to do nothing until at least July 29.

Before then, he said, he would ask congressional action. The only purpose of such action would be to prevent any strike at all.

nights of violence, then withdrew them Monday amid an uneasy peace.

Two white men sitting on a porch were wounded Thursday when they got up to investigate some noises. Frank D. Tavaliero was at home with a friend, John Busta, 31, when they heard dogs barking at the side of the house.

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — With six white persons wounded in a new and continuing siege of gunfire in racial violence here, State Police asked today that they be allowed to turn over the restoration of order to the National Guard.

"There is shooting all over the city—almost on the scale of warfare," said Maj. George E. Davidson, State Police field commander.

"The situation requires the attention of the military. I have recommended to the governor that militia law be reinstated. I am confident that my recommendation will be followed."

Gov. J. Millard Tawes was expected to announce his decision on the recommendation before noon.

As Davidson spoke, shots echoed throughout the night and small groups of armed whites and Negroes roared through the city in automobiles, shooting at persons not of their own race.

Three of the wounded were National Guardsmen who were fired upon as they drove through the Negro section of southwest Cambridge. They had just been released after a few hours of duty backing up law enforcement of forts of state and city police.

Also shot were two men and a 12 year old boy, all struck by shot gun blasts apparently fired from a passing automobile. None of the wounded was reported in critical condition, but one of the men was hospitalized for eye surgery. The nightlong shootings capped the most violent outbreak in this river town of 12,200 since the National Guard lifted a 25-day state of militia law last Monday.

The new eruption began Thursday afternoon with an attempted sit-in demonstration by six whites and Negroes in a segregated restaurant which has been a prime target of the Cambridge integration drive.

The sit-in developed into a wild, fist-swinging melee when about 25 white patrons pounced on the demonstrators and began pummeling them.

About 200 Negro spectators who had been watching from across the street surged to the rescue of the sit-in group, found the restaurant door locked and tried to break it down.

A white crowd of about the same size joined battle with the Negro group and it took police 10 minutes to break up the milling punching mob.

The restaurant owner, Robert Felsenfeld, said he was closing his place, known as Dizzyland, for an indefinite period.

State Police later used dogs to prevent a further clash between about 300 whites and Negroes demonstrators and about 1,000 white hecklers.

The demonstrators had just made their usual sundown march on the courthouse to protest segregation in Cambridge. They were booed, jeered and pelted with raw eggs as they prayed and sang at the courthouse square.

When they began the seven-block return march to their meeting place in the Negro district, the whites tried to follow them but were contained by the police and dogs.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

explosion, area of destruction, zones of damage, area of severe fallout, residual radiation, gamma and beta radiation, external and internal source of radiation, the effect of distance, time and half thickness. Mr. Smith states that half-thickness refers to the range of gamma rays penetration. For example, it would take 1/2 inch of lead, 7 inches of steel, 16 inches of concrete, 36 inches of earth, 50 inches of water and 80 inches of wood. Therefore it is necessary for you to have the above amount of material between you and gamma radiation.

Mr. Smith stated that any group interested in learning more about civil defense or how to survive a nuclear attack he would be glad to discuss it.

The commander extends an invitation to all members of the legion to attend the next meeting for the election of officers.

CINDY'S CHOICE

By IRMA T. FINK

Keeping the secret from Cindy all these years hadn't been her idea in the first place Louise mused as she carefully scraped the melted chocolate into the batter. Ever since Cindy had been old enough to choose, her birthday cake had been chocolate, so her mother was making no exception of this one for her 21st birthday.

As Louise added the dry ingredients alternately with the buttermilk, she thought: It had been Ellen who had made her promise to tell no one, not even Cindy before he could sign the adoption papers. Circumstances had helped to begin with. Ellen had been out of town for a time, and a few people knew that Louise's own little girl had lived but two short days. Louise herself sometimes found it hard to believe that Cindy was not her own daughter. Even after the boys came, Louise felt no closer to them.

As Cindy had grown older she had become the kind of a daughter every mother hopes for. People often remarked how much she looked like her mother. This did not surprise Louise as she was used to being mistaken for Ellen when they were growing girls. The sister's similarity, however, ended there. Ellen, for instance never could understand what Louise saw in George to marry him. May be George wasn't exciting. He worked hard to provide a comfortable living. It wasn't his fault there was little money in his trade.

Of course it was too bad Ellen never had any more children. She felt sorry for her when she and her first husband had tried to get Cindy back. But old judge Donahue had seen to it the adoption was legal.

With the cake in the oven, Louise took time to reread the letter with a Beverly Hills postmark, which had come in the morning's mail. Ellen was arriving by plane that afternoon. She said she was lonely since her divorce and had decided to tell Cindy the truth. Now that she was of age, Cindy could choose to come to live with her. What, after all, did George and Louise have to offer a pretty young girl.

A wave of frustration swept over Louise when she realized Ellen would arrive before Cindy returned from work.

Conversation at the dinner table that night flowed easily, despite the fact that the heavily jeweled woman in the lowest sheath dress and layers of lavender eye shadow did not match the surroundings. Louise was quiet. She decided Ellen had let herself gain too much weight. George, as always when he sat down to a good meal, was beaming with congeniality. The two boys were gulping their food, hardly taking their eyes off the candle bedecked cake that formed the centerpiece. They told Cindy, who was asking Aunt Ellen all about Los Angeles and Hollywood, to be ready with her wish when she blew out the candles.

As the cake was served, the boys reminded Cindy she would lose her wish if she talked while eating it, and then proceeded to tease her into forgetting. Ellen chose a pause when the boys were eating to make her announcement: "Cynthia, my dear, you must have guessed by now that I am your true mother. If you came to live with me you'd learn about Los Angeles first hand and you'd

McCovey Is Big Gun for Giants

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I don't know where we'd be without him."

That's Al Dark, manager of the San Francisco Giants, speaking of Willie McCovey.

Where the Giants are—with McCovey—is in second place in the National League, and the tall slugger with the quick wrists and awesome power definitely has been their key man.

The left-handed batter who operates at first base or the outfield for the defending league champions again demonstrated his value Thursday night at Philadelphia.

He singled in the sixth inning, stretching his hitting streak to 15 games, then rapped his 24th homer in the eighth for the run that stood up as the clincher in a 4-3 victory.

The Los Angeles Dodgers stayed four games ahead of the pack capitalizing on a pair of errors and dealing the New York Mets their 12th straight loss, 4-3. It was the fourth victory in a row for the high-flying Dodgers, and the ninth in their last 10 games.

Elsewhere in the NL—Don Cardwell pitched a two-hitter in Pittsburgh's 3-0 shutout of the Houston Colts; Chicago and Cincinnati split a two-nighter, the Cubs erupting for seven runs in the 11th inning of the opener for a 7-0 romp and the Reds taking the second game 7-3 with a four-run eighth; and St. Louis also divided with Milwaukee the Cards winning 6-3 before dropping a 5-3 decision to the Braves.

The Giants had four men put out on the bases in a display of careless running and had to withstand a big threat in the ninth inning. Juan Marichal posted his 14th victory in 18 decisions with relief from Bob Bolin. Rookie Ray Culp, 10-7, was the loser.

The two Met errors combined with three Dodger hits pushed the league leaders into a 4-2 lead at New York — and nailed Roger Craig with his 12th defeat in a row.

Jesse Gonder, the catcher acquired by the Mets last week from Cincinnati, drove in all the New York runs with a pair of homers off Don Drysdale.

Drysdale went over the .500 mark at 11-10 with reliever Ron Perranoski's help. Craig, 2-14, last won on April 29—against the Dodgers.

Cardwell handcuffed the Colts on two singles, both by rookie Jim Wynn, in winning his third straight for a 6-9 mark. The Pirates nipped Dick Farrell for a run in the fourth on singles by Dick Schofield and Bill Virdon, plus Roberto Clemente's ground out, then got two unearned runs in the eighth off Don Nottebart.

Southpaw Dick Ellsworth, 12-6, went the distance for the Cubs in the overtime opener at Cincinnati. Andre Rogers started a 11th inning explosion with a single off lesser Al Worthington and batted in the seventh and final run with a double off Don Zanni. Ken Hubbs cracked the scoreless tie with a two-run double and Don Landrum tripled in two runs.

The Reds' four-run eighth inning in the second game gave Jim Maloney his 14th pitching victory. Eddie Kasko singled home the tiebreaker in the eighth and Pete Rose nailed it down with a two-run double.

Dick Groat doubled in two runs and Bill White followed with a homer as the Cardinals scored five times in the seventh inning for their victory over Milwaukee. The Braves retaliated in the second game, beating ex-teammate Lew Burdette, with Lee Maye's homer in the seventh the deciding blow.

Booing of Queen Shakes All Britain

By NORMAN BADDERLY
LONDON (AP) — British officials were stunned today that Queen Elizabeth II was booed by demonstrators protesting the state visit of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece.

Communist, anarchist and ban-the-bomb demonstrators shouted invective at the royal party as it entered the left a gala theatrical performance Wednesday night.

Elizabeth, visibly shaken, drove off alone and unsmiling to Buckingham Palace instead of attending a government reception with the royal visitors and her husband, Prince Philip.

The demonstration was organized by the "Committee of 100 Against Tyranny" to demand freedom for what they call Greek political prisoners. The Greek government calls them murderers and traitors convicted of crimes in the civil war that broke out at the end of World War II.

Premier Panayotis Pipinelis of Greece saw one of the chief instigators of the demonstrations. Mrs. Betty Ambatielos, today. He promised to give King Paul her appeal for release of her husband, Tony, from prison.

Mrs. Ambatielos said she would take no further part in the demonstrations.

Mrs. Ambatielos, 45, is a British Communist, a school teacher, and wife of a Greek Communist who has spent 12 years in prison.

"At this moment, plans stand to continue with demonstrations here tonight," said a spokesman for the Committee of 100 after learning of Mrs. Ambatielos' decision.

Hubbs cracked the scoreless tie with a two-run double and Don Landrum tripled in two runs.

The Reds' four-run eighth inning in the second game gave Jim Maloney his 14th pitching victory. Eddie Kasko singled home the tiebreaker in the eighth and Pete Rose nailed it down with a two-run double.

Dick Groat doubled in two runs and Bill White followed with a homer as the Cardinals scored five times in the seventh inning for their victory over Milwaukee. The Braves retaliated in the second game, beating ex-teammate Lew Burdette, with Lee Maye's homer in the seventh the deciding blow.

Pole Flies Family to Freedom

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—Polish air force Maj. Richard Obacz, a jet fighter test pilot, told his wife he wanted to get in some flying time.

He would fly to the Baltic coast, Obacz said, and the family could come along to visit relatives there. They would take the little single-prop trainer at the Nadarsy Airport. No, there was no room for luggage.

Obacz pushed his two small sons under the instrument board, strapped his 27-year-old wife, Mary, in the Pupit's cockpit, gunned the engine and took off. Not north, to the relatives. But west, toward the Berlin wall.

For 110 miles Obacz flew at low level across Poland and East Germany Wednesday. He evaded heavy air traffic over West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport, landed on the third pass and planted a kiss of each cheek of the astonished commander of the U.S. Air Force Base, Lt. Col. Bill Greidner.

His wife looked bewildered but smiled broadly. The boys, Lestow, 9, and Kristopher, 5, stretched.

Obacz, 34, said he flew the Polish-made trainer at 160 feet to keep under the radar screen and "I knew where the air defenses were so I had no trouble avoiding them."

Taken to a canteen for a meal Obacz said: "I was tried of constant repression under communism. I had long wanted to get out. So do most service officers of my rank."

"It is wearying to have to always conceal your real opinions, to keep your mouth shut."

Sox, Giants Are Doctor Loop Victors

By RALPH ROUNTON

Last night in Doctors League Baseball the White Sox clobbered the Dodgers, 15-3, and the Giants clipped the Braves, 7-6, and the Red Sox slammed the Yankees, 5-1.

In the first game Thomas Norvell and Rodney Williams teamed up to pitch a no-hitter against the Dodgers. Then the Giants got a 5 hit barrage to hand the Braves their first loss. In the last game the Red Sox won with the help of homers by T. D. Hamilton and Mike Pinegar.

Travelers' Win Streak Ends at 10

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Luis Arroyo, Richmond pitcher sent down from the Yankees last month, squelched an Arkansas threat Thursday night and ended the Travelers' try for their 11th straight International League baseball victory.

Arkansas took the opener of a twin bill 4-2, but Richmond came back in the nightcap to win 6-2.

In other league play Buffalo downed Syracuse 4-2, Columbus nipped Toronto 4-3 in an 11-inning game, Indianapolis downed Rochester 5-3 and Atlanta edged Jacksonville 3-2.

The Atlanta and Indianapolis victories and Arkansas' loss put the Travelers 3½ games behind the Crackers, who lead in the southern division of the league.

Richmond picked up four runs on three hits off loser Gary Kroll in the first eight innings of the nightcap. Arroyo's ninth - inning double, bringing in two, ended any hopes the Travelers may have had.

Arkansas scored on a homer by Allen in the sixth. Arroyo gave up one run when he relieved in the seventh with the bases loaded.

Ed Merritt was accorded the victory.

Allen homered in the fifth inning of the opener to cap the victory for the Travelers.

Whitey Ford Racks Up His 14th Victory

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Those American Leaguers who insist Whitey Ford "doesn't have a thing," better keep an eye on the umpire, somebody's murdering 'em.

Ford, 34, left-handed ace of the New York Yankees pitching staff, threw nothing at the Los Angeles Angels Thursday night and came away with a 3-2 victory in 10 innings, his 10th in a row and No. 14 this season.

To many AI, observers Ford has lost some of his stuff, and is using his head instead of his arm to outwit the batter. Head or arm, Ford had it again against the Angels, turning aside threat after threat as Los Angeles cracked 11 hits and scored only a pair of unearned runs.

Ford's 14th kept the Yankees five games ahead of the second-place Chicago White Sox, who turned a six-run third inning into a 6-3 victory over Detroit.

Third-place Boston edged Minnesota 2-0 behind Bill Monbouquette's three-hit pitching. Baltimore ended a Washington winning streak at seven games with a 7-4 triumph and Cleveland made the most of John Wyatt's wildness for an 8-6 decision over Kansas City.

The Yankees playing without Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, got a two-run homer from Hector Lopez in the sixth inning that tied the score, then won in the 10th when Joe Pepitone doubled and Elston Howard followed with a single. That tagged the defeat on Julio Navarro, 4-2. An error by Lopez and a passed ball by Howard allowed the Angels to score two unearned fourth inning runs against Ford, who needed Ital Reniff's last inning relief help.

The White Sox batted around in the third, chasing Hank Aguirre, 7-8. The key blows were a two-run double by Mike Hershberger and Jim Landis' two-run triple. Gary Peters, touched for single runs in the first and second, settled down until he was out in the ninth when Jim Brosnan had to get the final out. Peters is 6-5.

Monbouquette posted his first shutout of the season and brought his record to 12-6 by besting the Twins' Dick Sugman, 7-9. Sugman allowed only four hits in the eight innings he worked, but two were homers—by Bob Tillman and Ed Bressoud. The loss was the Twins eighth in nine games.

The Senators were leading 3-0 with Tom Cheney working on a two-hitter when the Washington starter had to leave with pains in his right elbow. The Orioles immediately went to work, rushing six runs in the seventh inning to put it away.

Wyatt, who's been troubled by wildness recently, walked Larry Brown to force in the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning, then wild pitched another across. The Indians had drawn even earlier in the inning on singles by Dick Howser and Al Luplow and Jose Azucen's pinch-hit double. Willie Kirkland homered for Cleveland while George Alousik, Ken Harrelson and Doc Edwards connected for the A's.

Fullmer and Tiger Bout Postponed

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer's sore foot caused another postponement in his scheduled fight with middleweight champion Dick Tiger in Nigeria and Joey Giardello, who also wants a crack at the Tiger, said Gene's afraid.

"He doesn't like to go too far from home," Giardello said at a news conference in New York Thursday.

He said Gene is afraid to go to Africa, "because he knows Tiger is a little too tough for him."

Gene bails underneath at jibes like that, especially from Giardello, but he got hold of himself and said:

"I don't care to comment on it because I couldn't say anything nice. And if I can't do that, I don't want to say anything at all."

This was the second postponement. Fullmer and Tiger were first scheduled to fight at Ibadan, Nigeria, this Saturday. But Fullmer hurt his foot during a work out and postponed it until July 27.

But the foot healed slower than expected and Thursday his manager, Marv Jensen, announced, after talking on the phone to British promoter Jack Solomons, that the fight would be Aug. 10.

The teams will play on weekends with finals scheduled Aug.

Mr. Koufax Ponders an Anniversary

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It could be fate. More likely it's pure coincidence.

But tonight when Sandy Koufax takes the mound for the Los Angeles Dodgers against the New York Mets, it will be exactly a year to the day that the brilliant left-hander won his last game of the 1962 season.

That was the night the Dodgers lost the pennant. It happened right here at the Polo Grounds. Although grimacing with pain at every pitch, Koufax managed to blank the Mets with just three hits though seven innings.

By that time, the index finger of his pitching hand had become so numb and blue he had to quit. The circulation had stopped completely.

"It was my 14th victory," Koufax recalled today. "I was on the way to my best year in baseball. But it turned out to be my saddest. I didn't win another game all year."

"Worse than that, there were a few terrifying months last year when I feared I might never be able to pitch again."

It's just a short year but it seems like an eternity ago. Tonight, Koufax will be gunning for his 15th victory of the new season. He has lost only three. Eight of his triumphs have been shutouts. He has an outside chance of matching Grover Alexander's major league record of 16 shutouts in a single season.

Koufax is well aware that people have been saying he could be the first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean 30 years ago.

"I can't put a number on it," he said. "I don't dare. I've always wanted to win 20. It's sort of a magic number just like a 300 average is for hitters."

"I came close two years ago, winning 18. I thought sure I'd make it last year but I didn't. Now I've got another chance for 20. If I get any more, fine, but I'm not even thinking of 30."

State Baseball Commissioner Leroy Krumm said Thursday pairings for first round play were:

July 25: Monette vs. Corning; Elsworth vs. Trumann.

July 26: Caraway vs. Wytheville; Paragould vs. West Memphis.

July 27: Forrest City vs. Beech Grove; Osceola vs. Pine Bluff.

July 28: North Little Rock vs. Batesville; Wynne vs. Forrest City.
